

Payment / donation

The Indian tradition is very different from the western in terms of payment and donation. The Indians never allow money to be decisive/crucial – they never put money first, therefore their tradition does not match the setting of prices on the sweat lodges or other events, but that each one donates at one's discretion.

We as Europeans still chose to put recommended prices on arrangements to get it to work here in Europe, and to ensure that costs are covered - this allows us regularly to invite Pablo Russell and the people around him.

Prices of the various events must be considered a recommended donation in relation to the costs associated with each event.

If you have financial difficulty paying the specified amount, please contact the person responsible for the event, and there will be opportunity for another solution.

No one will be excluded from these events because of money.

When Pablo is invited to Europe it goes the Indian way – we offer him tobacco to ask him in an honourable way to come this far to share his traditions and his culture with us. He receives due to the Indian tradition a suitable donation for leading the sweat lodges and giving teachings.

It should be emphasized that all the events announced on this website are non-profit. They are based solely on volunteer labor.
